

It is of paramount importance to the future stability of our country that we are able to all accept the outcome of the coming election and for a partisan body to throw its influence around like this, will tear up even further the fabric that holds us together as a society.

d1w